Re: MB Docket No. 04-233

Dear Ms. Dortch:

St. Joseph Orphanage is a comprehensive children's mental health, educational and residential treatment agency that helps abused, cognitively challenged and/or emotionally disturbed children and their families on the road to recovery and success. We provide mental health treatment and services for over 1,600 children ages 3 - 21 in the Greater Cincinnati (Butler County, Hamilton County, Montgomery County, and Northern Kentucky) area in school-based, residential and in-home therapy.

Q102 (WKRQ) radio literally helped put St. Joseph Orphanage on the map in Greater Cincinnati in 2000, and thereafter until present, by allowing our children's Christmas wishes to be heard over the airwaves during the entire Christmas season. Many of our children are in our care under protective orders and it is difficult to share their photos with the general public, but Q102 allowed our children's voices and concerns, and thus our mission, to come alive to the public.

Because of Q102's support, we continue to receive tremendous support in the form of Christmas gifts and cash donations to the agency. We recently conducted a capital campaign, and again, Q102 assisted us in this effort by donating significant airtime for our commercials, as well as creating commercials for us free of charge. Several years ago, the station's personnel interviewed our children, who often have devastating background of abuse to reveal, and accomplished this with much discretion and sensitivity. St. Joseph Orphanage is lucky to have such a powerful and long-term relationship with the staff at Q102.

In conclusion, Bonneville International-Cincinnati (WKRQ) has been effective in serving my organization's needs as well as those of the community at-large. We see no need for additional rules or reporting requirements that insert federal oversight of the process of broadcasters serving the community.

Respectfully submitted,

Gloria Wahler
